The following gentlemen were named by the Mayor as the health committee, viz: Pruet, Crutcher, Utterback and Marshall.

The council then adjourned until Wednesday night when an appeal meeting was held to allow all who felt aggrieved at their assessments to be heard.

At the meeting Wednesday night, the Mayor and a full board were present, as was a good sized crowd of property holders, whose grievances were listened to patiently by the councilmen, and after all had been heard, it was decided to meet in executive session and settle the matters presented.

The ad valorum tax ordinance was adopted, making the rate $1.40 for 1894.

Physicians Puzzled.

Many persons are unable to sleep on their left side. The cause has long been a puzzle to physicians. Metropolitan papers speak with great interest of Dr. Franklin Miles, the eminent Indiana specialist in nervous and heart diseases, who provides for this condition by taking a small dose of P. H. Exchanged Shots.

Saturday night about 10 o'clock the residents of Second street were startled by several pistol shots which rang out upon the night air in quick succession from the direction of Battle Alley, and at first it was thought that another murder had been committed in a locality formerly noted for its numerous fights and rows, but has recently improved in its reputation. It turned out that Officer James Glanton and Special Policeman West Stephenson had heard a negro crap game was being run in the brick yard of Messrs. J. W. Gault & Co., lying between the alley and the river, and had undertaken to capture the participants but flushed their game, and were fired upon by the fleeing dusky gamblers. The shots were returned by the officers and they think they hit one of the negroes, but have been unable to find him. Stephenson got a ball through his clothes.

The loading and unloading to be done on a switch and off of the street. The matter was referred to street committee.

It is a certain remedy for coughs and colds which often lead to serious forms of pulmonary consumption. Pleasant to take. Children like it. The price is right, only 25 and 50 cents a bottle at P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Mr. Jas. D. Moore Found Dead on the Bank of Stoney Creek.

Thursday morning Mr. Jas. D. Moore, who lived on Kentucky street, in Bellepoint, took his minnow bucket and seine and left home, telling his wife that he was going to the country to assist a friend with his tobacco. He went out the Stoney Creek pike and sometime during the morning was seen by William and Howard Masters, who live in the neighborhood, to leave the pike where Stoney Creek crosses it and go up the creek, as they supposed to sein for minnows. Some time afterwards they, too, started up the creek in search of minnows and crawfish, and found Mr. Moore lying upon the bank of the creek dead. He had evidently sat down upon a little mound to prepare to wade in the water, as he had one shoe and sock off when found.

Coroner Dehoney was notified, went out and held an inquest. Dr. Miles was called as a witness, who gave it as his opinion from an examination of the body that death was produced by some affection of the heart, and the jury returned a verdict to that effect.

Mr. Moore was about 75 years of age and leaves a wife and several grown children.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and no less than a million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds—if you have never used this Great Cough Medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in diseases of the Chest and Lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

The Freight Ordinance.

By reference to the Council proceedings it will be seen that an ordinance was presented to the Council Tuesday night and laid over, granting the Street Railway Company the right to move freight in cars over Second and Murray streets. Should the company secure the privilege they propose to extend their line west on Second to the Boulevard road and thence to the L. & N. railroad in Bellepoint, so that cars can be loaded on the premises of the Hermitage Distillery or any other manufacturing establishment along the line in South Frankfort and transferred over the street line to the L. & N. railroad ready for shipment. In less than car load lots they propose to transfer freight in their freight motor. There is to be no transferring of freight from the cars to the freight motor in the street, as some of the papers had it, but all cars are to be unloaded and loaded on a switch and off the streets.

Should the line be extended around the Boulevard to connect with the L. & N. it will likely be carried down into the streets of Bellepoint also, which the citizens of that town are very anxious to have the company do.

A Pestilence Breeder.

There is a shallow stone sewer running from the intersection of Third and Main streets, to the main sewer on Cross, which is scarcely covered with six inches of dirt and has several openings with no traps, and the gas emitted from it is becoming very offensive, poisoning the atmosphere of the whole neighborhood. There is already one case of typhoid fever in that section, which was doubtless caused by this sewer and as the season advances more sickness will be produced by it unless prompt measures are taken to remedy the evil. It was originally intended to carry off surface water, but of late private sewers have been run into it until it has become a menace to the health of that part of the city.

Base Ball.

The opening game of the Base Ball season was played at Thorn Hill Park on Thursday afternoon between the home nine and the Parklands, of Louisville. The park was hardy in good condition for playin', and the electric car line was not completed to the ground, al hough passengers were carried to the foot of the hill.

The game was a disappointment to the home people, but there is no reason for discouragement. The visitors were a stronger lot of players than was anticipated, and the lack of team practice by the home nine was clearly apparent. Now that the park can be used for practice, however, a great improvement can be looked for in this respect.

Of the new men who came here, Smith and Kelley were not considered good enough to put in the game, Brown is Lew, Brown, of Lexington, who is well-known as a fine player. Schwartz caught well, but could not throw to bases. Unless he improves, this will be a fatal defect. Maloney, however, made a favorable impression. He is in the game all the time, and plays just as hard with a big lead against him as at any other time. It is but fair to say that many of the hits recorded against him were of the scratch order, while others were made after chances had been given to retire the side. In the third inning five errors were made in succession, without a single hit coming in between.

Curry pitched a splendid game for the visitors and was well supported, the work of Cane at short being especially fine. In fact, the Parklands are a strong hustling team and hard to beat at any time, but we still think we can do them when the College contingent returns home and our boys strike their regular gait.

The score follows:

Innings—1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—T

Tools His Own Life.

The sad news was received here Thursday evening to the effect that Mr. W. J. Parker, formerly of this city, had taken his own life at his home in Paris. It seems he and his wife were preparing to attend Forepaugh's circus, and she had left him alone in a room for a few moments, when she heard a pistol shot and returning to the room found him lying upon the floor dead. He had placed the pistol to his temple and sent a bullet through his brain. No cause is known for the rash act.

Will Parker was a son of Mr. Mike Parker, of this city, and was born and raised here. He learned the printing art in the old Yeoman office and continued to work at the business until the publication of the paper was discontinued in 1886, when he went to Paris, where he began clerking in a store, married a year or so after and had continued to make that place his home. He leaves a number of relatives and friends here who regret to learn of his sad death.

Matrimonial.

EDWARDS-LEDGERE—Mr. Wm. H. Edwards, of Cincinnati, and Miss Anna P. Ledger, of this city, will be married on Wednesday next, the 16th inst.

GAINES-TILLETT—Mr. Robert B. Gaines and Miss Mary B. Tillett were married in this county on Monday.

ROSENBERG-ROSENSTEIN—Mr. Joseph Rosenberg and Miss Mary Rosenstein were married Sunday at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Caleb Rosenstein, on Broadway, Rabbi H. Feldt, of Cincinnati, officiating.

SUTHERLAND-JENKINS—Mr. Thos. Sutherland and Miss Mary Jenkins, both of this county, were married in this city on Monday.

Kentucky River Appropriation.

We regret to learn from a letter of Col. A. S. Berry to Judge L. Hord of the failure of his amendment to the River and Harbor bill, increasing the appropriation for the Kentucky river from $100,000 to $200,000, and placing the work under contract to the amount of $1,500,000. In offering and contending for this amendment, Col. Berry has shown his continued friendship and devotion to the interest of our people in a manner they are not likely to forget.

He thinks that if Senators Lindsay and Blackburn would make a good and strong fight for this proposition in the Senate, we might yet get it incorporated in the bill of the present session. He says that Messrs. Grosvenor, of Ohio, and Causey, of Delaware, whom many of us remember as a part of the River and Harbor Committee who visited and inspected our river last fall have shown themselves our friends on the proposition.

We yet hope that an increase of the $100,000 appropriation may be made at the present session of Congress.

Struck by Lightning.

The residence of Col. J. N. Crutcher, in Bellepoint, was struck by lightning about one o'clock Sunday afternoon. The electric fluid first shattered one of the wooden ornaments which rise above the ridge on the left side of the house, and then, being attracted by the sheet iron crown of the ridge, played all over the metal parts of the roof, finally running to the ground by the gutters. The wood work of the house was set on fire in several places, but was extinguished in a short while, the damage amounting to about $50. The family were all in or near the house at the time, but luckily none of them were hurt.

Mr. John Cox, also of Bell-point, was taking in a bird cage at the same time, and he was shocked by the electric fluid, being spun around like a top several times, but not being hurt.

The hail storm which followed the electric display was one of the severest ever seen here for the short time it lasted, but was soon succeeded by a steady rain that continued all the afternoon.

CRAIG—The wife of Ed. Craig, Senator Lindsay's colored coachman, presented him with a bouncing baby boy Thursday, and Ed. named him Lindsay, in honor of his employer.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr, of Frankfort, who recovered from rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me," he says, "as sudden as lightning. My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balsam to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, but to my surprise it did not help. I have used three fifty-cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings etc. For sale by PHIL CARPENTER, South Side druggist.

FRANKFORT, MAY 12, 1894.

The Prodigal Son Revised.

There was once a Man of the Silver Tongue who said unto his people: "Give me of your honors and let me represent you in the Capital of Nations, and when I have made for you a great name in the Council of Nations I will return unto you that you may approve of my works."

And the people were pleased with the words of the Man of the Silver Tongue, and with one voice they declared that he should have of their honors and be their Representative in the Council of Nations.

And it came to pass that when the Man of the Silver Tongue was come to the Capital of Nations, that he forgot the people who had given him of their honors; and when it was proposed in the Council of Nations that the great river of the country which had sent him to the Council should be made to bear to market the fruits of the soil, the Silver Tongue raised up his voice and declared unto the Council that his people were more interested in the triumph of Democratic principles than in the welfare of their own country.

And it was so, that the money which the Council would have given for the benefit of that country was given to other countries; for the Council said: "Did not their own Representative, the Man of the Silver Tongue, say that they did not need it?"

And the Man of the Silver Tongue returned to his people, and when they demanded of him why he had not secured the money which they needed to improve their great river, he answered them not; but he said: "I will explain unto you."

And it came to pass, that when the Man of the Silver Tongue lifted up his voice and spake, his people were charmed by his words even as the bird is charmed by the serpent; and when he told them how his words of silver had increased the fame of their eloquence among the nations and how he had been complimented as their Representative, for his matchless oratory, that they were pleased; and approved of his acts and again gave him of their honors and chose him for their Representative.

Notwithstanding, he did not press the claims of that country in the Council of Nations.

And when it came to pass that for the space of ten years the Man of the Silver Tongue had been given of the honors of his people and still he failed to obtain for them the money wherewith to improve their great river; that the soul of that people was troubled within them.

And they held a great meeting, and they sent messages to the Representative of the Licking country asking him to come to their aid; and he came and helped them; notwithstanding he was unable to prevail over their enemies in the Council of Nations.

But still this people were under the spell of the Man of the Silver Tongue, and had no thought of taking their honors from him, though he forgot his own people which had honored him.

But it came to pass that a certain maiden of that country became enamored of the Man of the Silver Tongue, when he was first given of the honors of his people; and she sorely tempted him and seduced him and compelled him to do as she said and abode with her many days, notwithstanding his family and his people knew it not.

But when, after many years, the Man of the Silver Tongue tired of that maiden, she went to the ruler of the Capital of Nations and denounced him before all people, and demanded that he be compelled to pay her much money for the time he had abode with her and for his failure to make her his wife; and the scandal thereof was very great.

And when the judges had consulted and heard all the facts they commanded the Man of the Silver Tongue to pay a great sum of money to that maiden.

But the people of that country were exceeding wroth and denounced the Man of the Silver Tongue for the scandal which he had brought upon them, he being their Representative in the Capital of Nations.

And when the Man of the Silver Tongue had denounced the judges which condemned him, he took thought and said unto himself: "Was not the fatted calf killed for the prodigal son? Verily, I will arise and go unto my people and confess what I have done; and they will again give me of their honors."

But when he was come unto his own country certain of the good men saw him afar off; and they pierced through his disguise, and knew that he was not truly repentant; for they said: "Did the prodigal son expect the fatted calf to be killed for him? Verily, he asked only for the crumbs which fell from the table, and not to be the ruler of the feast."

And they denounced the Man of the Silver Tongue and warned their people against him.

But when he of the Silver Tongue was come and saw that the good men pierced through his disguise, and received him not as the prodigal was received, he was exceeding wroth.

And gathering together a great multitude at the city called the Capital of the Bluegrass, he stood up in their midst; and forgetting how he himself was in need of charity, he denounced those good men and caused his followers to denounce them; and there was a dispute in that country and the noise of it reached all nations.

But the good men kept silent when they saw the storm which the pretended prodigal had raised about their ears; notwithstanding when the people came to choose their Representative again, the Man of the Silver Tongue was stripped of his honors and another man sent to the Capital of Nations in his stead.

When thou demandest the charity of others, be thou careful that thou extendest charity to those that honestly condemn thee; and when thou playest the part of the prodigal son, remember thou must feed on the husks for many days before thou canst have the fatted calf killed for thee.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the six years it was supposed to be incurable. For many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Since it has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It acts directly upon the blood and the surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

A Solid Institution.

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers Bank, one of the best and most solid financial institutions in the State, was held on Monday at which the old board of directors was re-elected and after the meeting adjourned the board met, re-elected all the old officers and transacted other important business. When the business was concluded the President, Col. Thomas Rodman, as has been his custom for many years, invited the members of the board and a number of friends to dine with him. The feast was a magnificent one and was partaken of by the following gentlemen:

Rev. W. C. Taylor, Mr. Jas. M. Saffell, Mr. W. S. Dehoney, Mr. Jas. Church, Mr. J. C. Noel, Col. R. P. Pepper, Mr. R. P. Pepper, jr., Mr. Jno. W. Rodman, Judge G. V. Payne, Georgetown; Mr. H. S. Anderson, Georgetown; Mr. S. S. Wells, Mr. L. J. Jett, Mr. Martin Schlomp, Henders n; Mr. Jas. H. Graham, Col. J. Stoddard Johnston, Mr. Wm. Saffell, Mr. George L. Willis, Dr. Jas. Ely, Mr. Wash. Crutcher, Mr. J. M. Smith, ex-Gov. J. Proctor Knott and Hon. L. C. Norman.

After all had fared sumptuously Col. J. Stoddard Johnston arose and in an appropriate and neat little speech proposed a toast to their host, to which Col. Rodman replied in fitting terms, and Gov. Knott followed with a toast to Hon. Grant Green, who has been cashier of the bank for a quarter of a century. Major L. C. Norman responded for Mr. Green and the party adjourned.

The old Farmers Bank has had a successful existence of more than half century and was never more prosperous than under its present management. Its officers are all safe financiers, and in their hands the interests of the stockholders are sure to be taken care of.

Snapped at the Judge.

Senator Lindsay came near being bitten by a dog Thursday morning. The animal, a large white setter, was lying on the sidewalk on Main street and the Judge, in passing, accidentally stepped on it when the dog sprang up and attempted to bite him, its teeth snagging his pantaloons just above the right knee.

Man's Inhumanity to Himself.

The most inhuman outrages, outrages which would disgrace the savage, man perpetrates upon his own system of swelling and contracting, while, contrary to his stomach, agonizes his intestines and weakens his system. Many people constantly do this under the impression that medicaments only which are violent in their action, and particularly cathartics, are of any avail. Irreparable injury results to the body in this way, but though, and invigorates the intestinal canal instead of weakening and irritating it. This is the system of "Hydrocephaly," or diaphasis, instituted by this comprehensive physician, whose healing influence is felt throughout the system. Malicious rheumatic, kidney and nervous complaints succumb to it.

Deaths.

HARROD—Mrs. Harrod, mother of Mr. George Harrod, died at her home in the Bald Knob neighborhood on Sunday. Her funeral took place Monday, the remains being laid to rest in the burying ground.

SHANNON—Mrs. Catherine Shannon died Tuesday afternoon at 4:45 p.m., at the residence of her nephew, Mr. W. S. Dehoney, at the advanced age of 94 years. The old lady had been an invalid so long, having been confined to her room for twenty-five years, that few of the present generation know her and no one but a few intimate friends had seen her in all these years. She was one of the very few remaining members of a once flourishing congregation of Particular Baptists in this city and her death was in keeping with her life—gentle and peaceful as the dreamless sleep of an infant.

She was better known to her acquaintances as Aunt Kittie, and was the widow of the late William Shannon, who was at one time a prosperous farmer in this county but removed to this city and died in 1849. He was a soldier of the war of 1812, during which he participated in the battle of the Thames and other engagements with the British and Indians.

Her funeral took place at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the residence of Mr. Dehoney and the remains were laid to rest in the "City Upon the Hill."

TAMBLYN—The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tamblyn, of Detroit, Michigan, died at the residence of its grandmother, Mrs. Mary E. Pryor, on Cross street, Saturday night at 11:30 o'clock. The funeral took place Monday afternoon. Mrs. Tamblyn was formerly Miss Nettie Pryor of this county, and her many friends deeply sympathize with her in the loss of this, her only child.

WILKIRSON—Mr. William M. Wilkerson died at his home in Forks of Elkhorn on Saturday morning, after a lingering illness, aged 70 years. The deceased suffered a stroke of paralysis twenty-seven years ago and during all the years since then has been an invalid, able to get about at times but for years confined to his room and for many months to his bed. For four years he had subsisted entirely upon milk and soups, his throat being in such a condition that he could take no solid food, and to him death came as a great blessing and a sweet relief. He leaves a widow, a sister of Dr. E. H. Black, formerly of this city, and eight children, one of whom is Mrs. John Sinclair, of this city.

His funeral took place Monday morning from Providence Baptist Church, of which he had been a member since its organization nearly forty years ago, and the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Stamping Ground.

A lady at Tooley's, La., was very sick with bilious colic when Mr. Carpenter, a practitioner, called on the town, and gave her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says she was well in forty minutes after taking the first dose. For sale by PHIL CARPENTER, South Side druggist.

To Meet in Paris.

The Kentucky Pharmaceutical Association will meet in Paris on Wednesday. A large attendance is expected and the session will be an important one. Messrs. W. H. Averill and J. W. Gayle and possibly other druggists from this city will attend.

KENTUCKY RIVER IMPROVEMENT.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ENDEAVORING TO GET THE SENATE TO Increase the Appropriation.

The executive committee of the Kentucky River Improvement, of which Hon. W. J. Hendrick is chairman, W. H. Murray, Secretary, and Hons. Grant Green and E. H. Taylor, Jr., Judge B. G. Williams, Messrs. Jos. Robinson and D. M. Woodson are members, are not satisfied with the amount appropriated to the Kentucky river by the River and Harbor Committee of the House of Congress, and have addressed the following communication to our Senators in Congress, and papers favorable to the cause are requested to publish the same:

REPORTS OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ON IMPROVEMENT KENTUCKY RIVER, Frankfort, Ky., May 9th, 1894.

Hons. Jo. C. Blackstone and William L. Dickey, U. S. Senate, Washington, D. C.

SENATORS:

When the haughty Chief of the Confederate Greeks drew his baton of office over the Athenian Themistocles, pressing his advice with patriotic ardor, he said, "The Athenians presenting his shoulder to the blow, 'strike, but hear me!'

This department has endeavored in every way to be heard by the Congress of the United States in its behalf of the Kentucky river, and its immediate improvement by the said United States, all to no purpose, as it would appear from the action of the River and Harbor Committee of the House of Representatives of which committee visited Kentucky, and inspected the Kentucky river, Frankfort to Cedar Lock, 20 miles below Frankfort; then from Frankfort to High Bridge, where they took the cars to Bellfontaine. This committee had requested the President, by resolution of the City Council of Frankfort as well as a House resolution of the Legislature, to have the Secretary of War recommend to Congress, that $400,000 be appropriated to improve the river and to have the river placed under the contract system, and to recommend the amount estimated to complete the work—$1,634,000. The President complied with the request and made the recommendation as above indicated, as it would seem, all to no purpose, for the River and Harbor Committee of the House took the recommendation of the Secretary of War, and the Kentucky river, as savage, would, in looking glass, broke it to smatheres by recommending one-fifth or $100,000 of the amount recommended by the Secretary of War, which was $500,000. So, as by the said committee is simply an outrage upon this people and this river, and to protest against the same being heaped upon them by a concurrence of the Senate is the cause of this committee addressing you Senators upon the subject.

Webster has said: "That no Government is respectable which is not just; that without sacred public principle, fidelity and honor make of God's creation a curse of hell, can give dignity to political society."

Consider what we submit below and inform this department if, in your honest opinions, whether or not the American Government has dealt honorably with us. We say the said Government is now dealing honestly with them as concerning the appropriations for the Kentucky river about to be made by Congress, or at least by the House.

You are probably aware that the Kentucky river was ceded to the United States by act of the Legislature of 1879-80, upon condition that Congress would make navigation free and extend the system to the Three Islands. Since then by successive appropriations aggregating one million four hundred and ninety seven thousand five hundred dollars ($1,497,500) the United States has repaired works, rendering navigation for 100 miles up to Cedar Lock No. 6, extending slack water to High bridge, the crossing of the Cincinnati Southern railroad, about 112 miles from its mouth.

You must bear in mind that there was no appropriation by Congress for the Kentucky river for the following years, viz.: 1883-8-7-9-11-13, although the Secretary of War recommended $500,000 for the Kentucky river to the last Congress, which was ignored by said Congress. Although the Kanawha river, of which the Virginia received from the last Congress an appropriation of $500,000, and now have three locks and dams under contract that will cost $1,081,000, and the Kentucky is to be given $100,000 by the committee of the House and the House, in fact we are informed that the House has passed the bill without amendment increasing the amount for the Kentucky river. We ask is this justice to Kentucky by Congress? What does the Virginian who does West Virginia rank Kentucky that she can receive large appropriations from Congress and Kentucky receives nothing, or its equivalent—a pittance?

We now ask you earnest attention to the collections made in the Internal Revenue made in the Kentucky (bordering on the Kentucky river), headquarters at Lexington, by the United States in the same year 1882, as in 1879-80, when she was so liberal this year with other appropriations of $1,497,500 for the Kentucky river. Collections from June 30th, 1882, to year ending June 30th, 1892, as per Internal Revenue reports made to the House of Representatives of the first seven months of the year beginning January 1, 1883, $9,305,500, total collections by Stamp Deputy at Frankfort during the year 1892, $2,141,422.10. Enclosed official statement from Col. W. M. Shelby, Deputy Collector, April 1893, 12 letters.

Senators, it has been said by one of Kentucky's most gifted sons that Congress is the great inquest of the nation, the two Houses are the two eyes of the people. They are authorized to provide for the common defense and regulate commerce between the States. The object of this committee in addressing you upon this vital subject as concerns this people (your people) is that you may direct the two eyes of the nation above referred to to the great injustice they have done to this people by collecting the enormous sums of money on their industries and luxuries and refusing them appropriations that will be the direct means of improving the welfare of the State and unlocking a 10,000 square mile coal field, and forever putting it beyond the possibility of a coal famine either as Louisville, Madison, Cincinnati, New Orleans, or Boston. The committee did not ask of you distinguished Senators to do impossible things; we are thoroughly advised and know all well what has been done in the past for other States can be performed again. It is no longer than the last regular session of Congress—I mean when the River and Harbor bill passed—there was no such bill passed by last Congress, it was session before the last, it was session of Senator Mann of West Virginia, now deceased, amended the River and Harbor bill, $3,500,000 in the Senate, sent it back to the House with the increase amendments it will be before the Senate committee, and the Senate amendments remained as far as this committee is advised. At any rate the Kanawha river received $500,000 and they have since contracted for three years, and the amount is now increased to $1,081,000. But there was not a dollar appropriated by that Congress for the Kentucky river. Is that justice to this people? The $500,000 urged by this committee to be recommended by the President through the Secretary of War to Congress for the Kentucky river (the same being recommended) is less than one-fourth of the amount, $2,141,422.10, collected by Stamp Deputy at Frankfort for the same period.

Since then by the River and Harbor Committee, in their infinite wisdom, have ignored the wishes of this people, and the recommendation of the Secretary of War regarding an appropriation for the Kentucky river, and then have cut the amount not by one-half but by one-fifth. They propose to grant $100,000 instead of $500,000 as requested. Making a total cut of less than one-twentieth of the collections of luxuries here in 19 months on industries and luxuries. And we are told by the highest authority in the land that no Government is respectable which is not just. Have we been treated justly? If not, then our Government, of which you distinguished Senators are a part, according to Webster, is not respectable. Hence it is that we earnestly urge you Senators to rise in senatorial dignity and give, or caused to be given, a respectability to the Government that is not respectable, because it is not just. In your view, in your past, nor is it during justly with your people now. Justice! Right! In practice, equity is the impartial distribution of justice on the basis of another way, the law of God and man and reason giving him a right to claim. It is the treatment of a person according to justice and reason.

We have not so been treated in the past, nor are we so treated in the present in all justice and reason. This committee urgently request you Senators to so amend the River and Harbor Bill, when said bill reaches the Senate, as to make it read: five thousand dollars ($5,000) for the Kentucky river instead of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), as it is now said to read. Fight to the bitter end if occasion requires it.

"Truth is a jewel always, set it in what case you may, in the present occasion it must be exposed to the full light in which it can be placed."

The Internal Revenue derived from Kentucky by the Government as tax on her industries from 1862 to 1893 was $26,618,920.36, an increase over the preceding year of nearly $5,000,000. (See enclosed article in Courier-Journal, July 26th, 1893.) The Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill reported to the House makes a total appropriation of $39,824,834. This includes $16,115,750 appropriated for River and Harbor Improvements. (See article Courier-Journal, Washington, July 15th, 1893.) Out of this sum $16,115,750 is not a dollar for the Kentucky river. The money must be collected here and appropriated elsewhere. Is that justice such as has been defined above? Is it for justice such as we have not received that we appeal to you, and hope that you will feel it incumbent upon yourselves to see that we get simple justice; that is all we want; that is all we ask; and in simple language, we believe you will see that we get justice.

Geo. Washington, great in all things, and having stretched before his prophetic vision in long perspective the future fortunes of the Empire of America, and the connection of the Chesapeake with the Ohio river, through means of the waters of the Potomac and Monongahela.

Then Washington was in favor of improving the water ways of the Empire he had founded. We do not ask you Senators to travel a new path, but to follow in the road blazed by the immortal Father of his Country and keep well in the middle of the road. We sincerely believe that the road the illustrious Washington pointed out is the road for all Americans to travel. Over this fair land a balmy atmosphere and pure air reign. There is health, business, healing fountains of mineral and medicinal waters burst from her mountains. Here grain and flower and fruit grow from the earth until the land runs o'er. All we lack to make it a paradise on earth is simple justice. Justice is what we long for and we look to you to see that we get justice.

The American people are generous and grateful, but they are averse to being imposed upon by special people. They have trusted deeply where they believed they had grounds to trust. Their confidence has been as deeply abused. Look to the interior, sir, the frown is gathering on nation's

Weather fine.

Most of the corn crop has been planted.

Our Breckinridge friends admit that Billie was led astray by a little school girl, and then ask us to send such a weakling to Congress.

Tobacco plants are looking well and may be much earlier than at first supposed.

Some of our farmers are rather too energetic; they kill a fine horse occasionally. Go slow, boys, horses are not worth much, but it doesn't do to kill them all the same.

After shipping men from all parts of the district, we suppose the Breckinridge contingent of Coxey's army reached a respectable size at Lexington last Saturday. It is to be hoped that Sarah Guess, Mary Shindlebower and Catesby Hawkins were there to help do the shouting.

Cattle stealing is a late offense in the criminal annals of Woodford.

All the horse jockeys of this section attended County Court on Monday. Guess "plugs" change hands at a rapid gait.

Mr. Breckinridge talks of his usefulness as a legislator. We defy him or any other person to name an act of his that has proved of special benefit to this district. When we have wanted anything it has been the custom to call on Col. Berry or some other Congressman who was kind enough to act in our behalf. Breckinridge has always spent much of his time out of Washington delivering lectures for pay.

When we were young, gallant knights could find no greater glory than clashing swords in the battle of love. Not so now, all seem not only content but anxious to win without opposition. We witnessed a scene a few evenings since, as follows: Gallant knight and fair maid in parlor, second knight approaches, hears voice of first knight, trembles, lower jaw falls about eight inches, and he beats an ignominious retreat. The fair maid recalls him but to no purpose. First knight is compelled to retire through pity for his cowardice. Oh, in the days gone how we should have rubbed on our war paint under like circumstances.

Many good men and true, through a kind of false sympathy, will vote for Breckinridge, but while it is true that all who vote for him are not liars, hypocrites and whoremongers, it is equally true that all the liars, hypocrites and whoremongers in the district will vote for him.

Announcement.

No apology is necessary on the score of medical propriety for thus announcing to the profession and the public, that we have made a long, careful and special study of cancerous diseases, together with all malignant and other tumors, and are able to offer the results of our extensive experience in Kentucky and surrounding countries in a system of rational and successful treatment, that we believe has never heretofore been attained, and we are able to point to thousands of successful cases—not in boasting, but rather in a spirit of thankfulness, that we are thus able to prove so clearly our assertion; that our system does cure cancer. With a positive knowledge of this fact now so fully endorsed by thousands of sufferers, and approved by the profession, we should be wanting in humanity if we neglected any means in our power to spread the glad tidings among those afflicted with this most terrible and hopeless of diseases.

We have printed a pamphlet giving the symptoms, cause, varieties, &c., of cancers and tumors. Anyone feeling interesting can get a copy free by addressing:
